Blue Tide Wins 2 of 3 Basketball Games

The tide's first encounter was with Appalachian Teachers College of Boone, N. C. Here they met defeat as Boone's Hatt and Causley led their squad in a 72 to 58 victory. "Bucky" Helton took top scoring honors with 19 points.

On the following night the boys in blue bounced back to take the strong Milligan squad by 6 points. Again Helton was high point man with 29 points. The game was nip and tuck all the way, but the boys from the Peach State edged the Tennesseans 80 to 74.

In the third and final game the Tide ripped Western Carolina 45 to 35. Reeves spanked the defense with 13 points. Ironically the squad defeated the only two teams that have downed the teachers so far.

The box scores are as follows:

MRS. J. E. WEBB WINS PRIZE FOR NAMING NEW CAFE

Mr. Wilmer Hendrix, owner of the Trade Wind Cafe between Statesboro and the airport, announced this week that Mrs. J. E. Webb won the cash prize for naming his new place the "Trade Wind Cafe." The new place opened Tuesday night of this week.

The weeks between February 7 and February 28 will be devoted to mobilizing the county's resources to combat the serious menace of heart disease, the leading cause of death in the United States today.

This woman's organization is working with the American Heart Association in an all-out drive to raise funds to help support a program of scientific research. Miss Wilford, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club says, "To effectively combat the disease more and more knowledge of the disease might be sought. Such scientific research requires a great deal of money. These funds must come from individual contributions, 70 per cent of the money raised will be used for the expansion and development of local heart programs."

Miss Wilford stated that contributions may be made to any branch of the club, or they may be sent to her at the Georgia Power Company office here.

A HOLE IN THE GROUND

This "Hole in the Ground" represents the unfinished Swimming Pool.

On My Honor . . .

"ON MY HONOR . . ."
These are the first three words of the oath a boy takes when he becomes a member of the Boy Scouts of America.

This week the Boy Scouts of Statesboro and Bulloch County are observing the Thirty-ninth anniversary of that great youth organization. Patrols in each troop are preparing exhibits in some of the city's business houses. Sunday the Scouts attended the church of their choice to begin the observance of the anniversary.

Too much cannot be said in praise of Scouting. Too much cannot be said in commending the adults who devote time, effort and personal energy to working with the youth of our community in its Scouting program.

President Truman in recognizing the part of the nation's youth play in the development of these United States took time out this week to deliver a message to the Scouts of America in which he challenged them to "achieve maximum results as you forward with your crusade to Strengthen the Arm of Liberty."

Said the President:

"To the Boy Scouts of America:

An Honest Mistake

LAST WEEK WE MADE what the Georgia libel of 1939 calls an "honest mistake."

In a front page story headlined "No Profit in Hog and Cow Stealing" in which we reported "Lauris Smith got three to four years, W. H. Bryant got $250 fine and 12 months," and "Levy D. Bryant was sentenced for stealing a cow from C. E. DeLoach on December 23, 1948."

We secured our information from the actual indictment papers. Perhaps there is not enough lawyers in use to correctly read these court papers, but as we made our notes our interpretation of the document was as we reported.

With the publication of last week's Herald we were informed that we are in error regarding Levy D. Bryant. He was not found guilty.

We regret the mistake in our reporting.

We apologize to Mr. Bryant.

We have nothing against Mr. Bryant. We do not even know him. There was no malice in our heart when we published the story.

We were only trying to discourage hog and cow stealing in Bulloch County by showing that activity comes high.

We are publishing a retraction in this week's Herald.

We can only hope Mr. Bryant is an understanding person.

And last week the Georgia House of Representatives passed a new libel law which if it should become law, deprives us of the right to confess to an honest mistake and publish a retraction.

This new law would supplant the 1939 "honest mistakes" libel law, which takes in account man's susceptibility to err, and allows him to make a public correction.

We're holding our fingers crossed . . .

Maybe Mr. Bryant has made some honest mistakes too . . . and forgives us ours.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week On . . .

TODAY, Feb. 10, will be clear and pleasant.
FRIDAY, Feb. 11, will bring scattered rain.
SATURDAY, Feb. 12, will be rainy.
SUNDAY, Feb. 13, rainy.
MONDAY, Feb. 14, will bring rain.
TUESDAY, Feb. 15, will bring rain.
WEDNESDAY, Feb. 16, will bring rain.

But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong!
Blame are the humble souls that wait
With sweet submission to His will;
Harmonious all their passions move,
And in the midst of storms are still.
P. DODRIDGE.

MEN ARE ONLY little boys

An old steam train, even in this age of streamliners, jet propulsion planes, and sleek automobiles, still will attract a group of interested spectators . . . men, and little boys alike.

On Monday morning of this week the Central Georgia Railway engine jumped the track between the station and Alfred Dorman's place on East Main.

All day Monday a crowd of people . . . busy people . . . help (tip service) try to get the train back on the track. Busy people . . . There was George Johnston, Nath Holman, Worth McDougald (well, Worth claims he was looking for a news angle), T. L. Hagan, Hoke Brunson—and scores of others.

Well, we, like Worth, were looking for a news angle. T. L. Hagan recalled that the train did the same thing once last year.

But it was sort of sad to see that great powerful steam engine standing there helpless. Puffing gently . . . just standing there. With all her potential power, yet powerless to move. All about her big wheels and drivers trainmen worked trying to get her back on her track.

All of which proves that when you jump your track you're in a bad way.

WE SET HIM TO THINKING

Ray Summerlin, of the U. S. Health Service, came into our office Monday morning sort of worried.

A couple of weeks ago we wrote an editorial in which we predicted that this fall somebody's young'un is going to be sent home from school from the first grade because there isn't not enough room for all the children who want to enter school for the first time.

Ray said he got to thinking about that thing and that possibility got to preying on his mind. He asked himself the question, "Reckon my child will be one of those who may not get in?"

Ray's child will be six years old in April of this year, and will be the right age to apply for entry.

Just to give parents something more about which to think, the city board of education in compliance with the policy of the state board of education says that a child must become six years of age before December 1 before he will be eligible to enter the first grade this fall. Until this year a child could enter if he became six before December 31. This month's difference will temporarily relieve the pressure for a few children will have to wait until next year to enter school.

THIS IS NO SCARE

We're not trying to scare people about this business of their children entering school for the first time this year.

But it is a fact that there is not enough room to take care of the normal increase in the number of children entering school for the first time.

Think upon it . . .

And if it is important enough to you, call your school superintendent to learn what you can do about it.

Forestry Notes

By J. W. ROBERTS

Bulloch County Protective Unit

During January the Bulloch County Forestry Unit suppressed twenty-two wild fires. These fires burned a total of 152 acres with an average size of about 7 acres.

This low average is due to the continued co-operation of the landowners with our fire fighting handovers. We appreciate that co-operation very much and urge that everyone continue to be careful. See that your fire does not become wild or get off your land. The fires that were suppressed last month would have burned approximately 8,000 acres had we been allowed to burn.

We are endeavoring to check on all fires that are spotted from the three towers located in Bulloch county. On but fire days, however, all of our trucks could possibly be already on fires and some fires might not be checked on promptly. We urge all landowners to report wild fires to our unit headquarters, located at the airport. The telephone number is 501-L.

ALL'S FAIR

Turnip greens and cracklin' bread, buckwheat cakes and honey. A rain-proof roof over my head and a little bit of money. A cozy spot by an open fire where oak logs burn, that's my desire. But then I'd want a shelf of books that I could read at leisure. And have friends drop in for a cup of tea and discuss our latest seizure.

THIS STUFF could go on forever—I find in my mail a request for my favorite recipe. That should be easy. Just turn to the page where I find traces of lemon and egg—or the faint order of spices, with tell-tale signs of butter, and there must be one that the next time he wants to smoke while he is on the road, he'll stop the car and get out to light his pipe . . .

I REALLY shouldn't tell this one, but it's the kind of thing that happens to all of us and is so terribly funny in retrospect. Recently when Isabel McDougald was ill, Sidney McDougald and daughter, Anne, prepared a lovely tray of food and delivered it personally to Isabel. Now Al who is quite fond of his Aunt Isabel, couldn't quite hide his disappointment in not being in on the pleasant mission. Consequently Sidney arranged another appetizing supper and entrusted it to Bernard and Al to deliver. Horrors what a catastrophe! Coming up the stairs in some unaccountable masculine manner, they (I use the plural to avoid placing any blame) tripped and spilled the contents all over the steps and front entrance. Now I don't quite understand this. They carefully scraped up the spilled food, replaced it on the tray and reluctantly returned to face Sidney. All the way home they argued as to which one broke the news to her. (Won't you men ever learn women aren't oranges?)

WHAT A LOVELY tale, honoring Virginia Rushing at Lullie Smith's with Mary Ruth Dodd as co-hostess. The decorations from the front door, where Mary Beth Jones greeted us so graciously, were simply exquisite right on through to the cozy sitting room back of the kitchen. Lullie headed the line, wearing a green crepe frock with rhinestone buttons. Mary Ruth wore a charming gold taffeta with matching jacket; the skirt featured a bustle. She wore white camellias. The bride-elect after fifty years of noble service in the school rooms of Georgia and South Carolina, has received from the educational department of S. C. a fifty-year button. Mr. Jones enjoys his pipe and in most very long ago he was driving along the road to prosperity . . . in a brand new automobile and he decided he'd light his pipe . . . his car indirectly crossed the road and went into a ditch. A wrecker was called, and it cost the professor TEN BUCKS to get out of that ditch. He states emphatically that the next time he wants to smoke while he is on the road, he'll stop the car and get out to light his pipe . . .

Now for filling, you can't beat Her flowers, dyed aqua, were carnations. Ethel Rushing looking more like Virginia's sister than her mother, was lovely in apple green crepe, glistening with green sequins and its beauty accentuated with yellow corsage. Lullie Trapnell, mother of the groom-elect, wore a fashionable rose crepe with rhinestone trim. Her gloves were aqua and her flowers were variegated carnations. Jacky, helping in the dining room, wore an adorable black taffeta trimmed in bluish pink caught up on her bare shoulder, leaving the other bare. She wore a pink camellia in her hair . . .

As ever, JANE.

P.S.—In July, along with watermelons, I'll still be serving Christmas stories. This one concerns Bill Brown, 22-month-old son of Kathryn and Brownie. He took one long look at his Christmas tree, lovely with tinsel, lights and toys, and uttered on expressive word: "Minkovitz."

Baking Powder Raises Spirits

Some people work off disappointment, anger or apprehension by playing the piano — others sweat emotions out by working in the garden and some say they can't really clean up the house try baking a cake or a pie. You Now, I've got a better solution. If you can't get out of the dumps, try baking a cake or a pie. You can work trouble out of your system by creating something beautiful and tasty with your own two hands.

The piano doesn't approve of (I used to use that method until I moved away, you know), but strenuous gardening or housecleaning done under tension leave you limp and in worse shape than you were before you began.

Maybe you have some of these "stresses," but if you haven't, try one soon.

Now, cover this pretty 3-layer yellow cake and lemon cheese filling with half a recipe of 7-minute frosting. This recipe is in your cook book, I know, and you can't beat it.

Birdie's Mahogany Cake

(my mother's)

3 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 stick butter (1/2 cup), 2 cups sugar, 4 eggs (well beaten), 1 cup sour milk, 1 cup boiling water, 2/3 cup cocoa, 2 teaspoons soda and 2 teaspoons vanilla.

Four boiling water over cocoa and soda and let cool. (The mixture will foam up, so use a fairly large bowl.) Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Then stir in dry ingredients alternately with sour milk. Add cocoa mixture and vanilla last. Bake about 45-50 minutes at 350 degrees. (2 layers).

And try Mrs. A. J. Ellis' icing (She's a McRae lady—Ellis' great aunt and a wonderful cook):

Aunt Lizzie's

Chocolate Cake Filling
2-1/2 ounces bitter cake chocolate, 1 cup (or small can) milk, 2-1/2 cups sugar, 2 tablespoons Karo (white preferred) syrup, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 package cream cheese.

Cook in top of double boiler (except cream cheese) until it forms a ball in cool water. Remove from heat and beat. Just before it gets hard, crumble cream cheese in and spread. Will cover the top and sides of a 3-layer cake and it is good.

And one old-fashioned Lemon Pie for good measure. This is

Birdie's, too:

Birdie's Lemon Pie
3 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup boiling water, 2 egg yolks, use of lemon and grated lemon rind.

Mix the cornstarch and sugar in a dish. Pour 1 cup boiling water into mixture and stir until blended; then cook in rather thick plan, just until it thickens. Stir constantly, to keep it smooth.

Take the boiled mixture off the stove and stir in the juice and grated rind of one lemon. It's wise to put in only half the juice at first, then add the rest of it if needed for the right flavor. (A big lemon is sometimes too much). Be sure to use all the grated rind be sure you have your egg yolks broken and well mixed with the lemon juice and rind. Stir into corn starch mixture and cook until smooth.

Use beaten whites with 4 dessert spoons sugar for meringue. Bake meringue 15 minutes in 300 degree oven. Flavor meringue with teaspoon vanilla.
